

A BICYCLIST ON THE RAMPAGE.

He Spills Beer and Breaks a Window in Eighth Avenue Saloon.

Robert M. Johnson, 30 years old, of 20 West Nineteenth street, was charged in Jefferson Market Court yesterday morning with malicious mischief. Henry Hirsh, ex-President of the Liquor Demers' Association, who keeps a saloon at 218 Eighth avenue, was the complainant. He said that Johnson entered his saloon on Monday evening and ordered a beer. He left, but, before leaving, he told him, and Hirsh, that he was ordering a beer for some friends who were outside. Johnson is alleged to have taken off his coat and shirt, and upset the other three and broken the glasses. He refused to pay for the broken glasses, and when the bartender remonstrated with him, he hit the bartender in the face with his fist. Hirsh said that Johnson had been hospitalized and covered with blood when a policeman found him half dead in a bicycle in front of his saloon. The station house he visited was Robert M. Noah of 208 West Nineteenth street.

In court yesterday morning Johnson said that Noah was his uncle's name. The case was postponed until the afternoon, when Hirsh withdrew his complaint upon Johnson promising to pay for the damage he had done.
